

Chandler McWilliams

SELECTED COMMENTS FROM TEACHING EVALUATIONS

“He's the hidden gem of this department!”

“I sincerely enjoyed this class and chandler's teaching of it. He was very patient and generous with his time helping to solve complicated problems while making learning enjoyable and interesting. Chandler is excellent at breaking down a very complex subject into digestible parts. I feel proud of what I made in this class and chandler's leadership, the curriculum and freedom with guidance in the creation of assignments made this possible.”

“Chandler is a wonderful human being to be around. I have learned so much in a field of work that is often stressful and aggravating mainly because Chandler approaches every problem/concern with a warm and calm manner. He is never condescending or uninterested. He is always right in there with you ready to tackle the problems wherever you are....his approach has made me want to do good work in a field that I had little confidence in beforehand.”

“Chandler is a great instructor! He is intellectually engaged, a talented programmer and always more than willing to help students. He is respectful in all interactions. I LOVED the hands on and open nature of this course compared to my PhD work in Info. Studies. It was really about developing a skill set and not just “going through the motions”. I enjoyed the theoretical component because it gave me a chance to contribute meaningfully to the class.”

“I learned a lot from watching Chandler teach. He was patient, encouraged questions, helped students outside of class, and gently encouraged different voices within the class room. I'm looking forward to having a class with him next quarter, too.”

“Chandler is amazing at explaining concepts and articulating critiques of your work. He is great at seeing the material from the perspective of the students to help them understand. He is an extraordinary teacher and mentor.”

“I really value having Chandler as a professor. I feel that I can easily communicate my concerns or questions with him and he has a great disposition in helping us learn.”

“Chandler is excellent. He really shines in his compassion for each student's individual expression.”

“One of my favorite DMA studio classes thus far because of the relevancy of material for skills/ portfolio pieces, as well as the teacher’s skills and personality.”

“Chandler’s explanations were clearer than anything I’ve ever heard. He could literally ‘translate’ computer speak to human language.”

“Honestly great professor! I learned so much from him!”
